Nico Doldinger – Director/Producer

Nico was born in Munich, Germany. His passion for the film started at an early age when he attended a high school for the performing arts in Germany. It was here that he was able to explore the world of story telling by making his own animated films as well as acting and directing in school plays.

To pursue his penchant for story telling, he studied and graduated at Bournemouth University, UK in the BA (Hons) Television Production course with a first class honours. The 2005 ITV Meridian Best Drama award was given to Nico for his film "The Flowerman", starring the Canadian Lisa Ray (Bollywood Hollywood, Water) which he wrote, directed and edited. After graduating at Ryerson University's Image Arts program with his 18 min 35mm Short "Home", he has recently directed the quirky award-winning short "The Legend of Clipper Dos Santos" as well as the "Heinz Spec Spot 'Usual Suspects'", expanding his narrative background into the commercial and music video world.

Based in New York, Nico is currently producing the Documentary film A Russian Fairytale in Perm, Russia (www.arussianfairytale.com)
